The stimulus material for the 2016 Media Production and Analysis ATAR course written examinations has been distributed to schools. A DVD was provided for each teacher of the course and each candidate enrolled to sit the ATAR examination.

The DVD contains all stimulus materials required including audiovisual and print. For ease of viewing and printing, it is recommended that the DVD is played on a computer.

Candidates will be required to make reference to the stimulus material in their responses to Section One: Short answer in the written examination.

The DVD will not be played during the examination; however, the examination paper will include a source booklet with excerpts or stills from the stimulus materials.
