

Message Rule: M E C C		MESSAGE: What is the source saying about the focus?				Perspective Rule: P D A
		What event/person/focus being portrayed?	How is the event/ person/ focus being portrayed?	What do I need to know about the event/focus in order to understand the message?	What is the source telling me about the event/ focus?
HISTORICAL CONTEXT: What are the events surrounding the source?		 PUT THE SOURCE HERE				Who wrote the source? What is their relationship to the source? What was there MOTIVE (why)?
						What TIME was the source written? How would this influence the perspective?
						What is the PLACE of the source? What country/state was it created? How would this impact the perspective?
						What was the PURPOSE of the source? Was it to inform, persuade etc.
What key events happened before this event that could of led to the focus? What effect/impact did the events of the source have?		How is the author demonstrating their perspective? (Choice of words, inclusion od detail, facial expressions etc)		PERSPECTIVE: What is the author's view on the focus?
Historical Context rule: I C E		What is the origin of the source? (Who, when, where has it come from?	How is the source relevant to the focus being studied?			When was the source made? How would this influence they type of information being presented?	What is the context of the source? (Key events, people, ideas)
		USEFULNESS: What information does the source give us about the event in question?				Usefulness rule U L E	